

Notice of Cancellation Requirements and Late Cancellation/Termination Fees

Important Please Read

To meet the demand for the specialist screening, assessment, and training services The Dyslexia Association (TDA) use a professional pool of highly skilled, and qualified third-party self-employed contractors (known as associates) who are booked in advance.

Late cancellations or failures to attend appointments or training sessions mean that we cannot reschedule our contractors, and we incur charges.

It is therefore important that TDA is notified in advance if you are unable to attend any scheduled session(s). If you fail to do so, you will be charged for the session and in the case of repeated no-shows or late cancellations, we will terminate our contract and recover all the charges originally agreed for the whole course or session(s). Of course, there may be a good reason you are unable to attend. In such cases we would still ask you to inform us giving as much notice as possible and the reasons why. In exceptional circumstances we may be able to waive the cancellation charge. Unfortunately telling us after you have missed a session will be too late to avoid the cancellation charge.

Notice of cancellations should be given to the administration team by telephone.

We operate between 9:00 – 17:00 and have an out of hours telephone cover and answerphone service.

The cancellation charge includes any of the remaining fees due and unpaid for the contracted services and shall be in addition to any other rights and remedies available to the supplier.
